FLOOR DEBATE

February 18, 2003 LR 18

puts it. Please vote for the committee amendment.

SENATOR CUDABACK: Thank you, Senator Redfield. Senator Landis, there are no other senators wishing to speak. Did you wish to close on your amendments?

SENATOR LANDIS: I think Senator Redfield's remarks certainly cover the waterfront. I ask for the adoption of the committee amendments.

SENATOR CUDABACK: Your light is also on. Did you mean for that to be so? Thank you, Senator Landis. The question before the body is adoption of the committee amendments to LR 18CA. All in favor of that motion will say aye. Opposed say no. We're calling on the adoption of the committee amendments to LR 18CA. Have you all voted with aye for those please. My clerk.

CLERK: Aye, aye, aye, Mr. President, on the adoption of committee amendments.

SENATOR CUDABACK: The committee amendments are adopted. Back to discussion of the bill itself, LR 18CA, offered by Senator Redfield. Open for discussion. Senator Quandahl.

SENATOR QUANDAH: Thank you, Senator Cudaback. I was wondering if Senator Redfield could respond to a question. And I'll kind of...

SENATOR CUDABACK: Would you yield to a...would you yield, Senator Redfield?

SENATOR REDFIELD: Certainly.

SENATOR QUANDAH: And I'll kind of preface it by just giving a little bit of background on my impression of some of the last couple of election cycles that we've gone through. In particular, there were some constitutional amendments, one in particular that Senator Stuhr offered that I'm not quite certain that the electorate understood exactly what was going to be accomplished by that constitutional amendment. Obviously, there wasn't any great constituency or lobby or anything of that
